Call to Worship

We are on the way with Jesus, witnessing the beginning of his ministry as it is portrayed in the Gospel of John.
We invite you to imagine, at least throughout this month, that there are signs along the way of Jesus—road signs, if you will.

This week we see a Yield sign.

Sometimes along the way we need to pause and let others pass us by.

It is as if when Nicodemus met Jesus by night,

Jesus invited him to pause and let a new way of thinking and understanding cross his path.

Let us be open to new ways of thinking and understanding as we yield for the Spirit of Christ to cross our path.

Let us worship God in Christ together.

Call to Confession

As we pause in worship today, we yield to the grace that allows us to be honest and begin anew. Please pray with me.

Prayer of Confession

God I know that nothing is hidden from you, and yet sometimes I confess that sometimes I pretend that it is.
Sometimes I worry that what I carry is too big to be forgiven.
I forget that you promise always to forgive.
Remind me that your forgiveness is rooted in love, I pray.

Silent Prayers of Confession

...In Jesus' name. Amen.

Declaration of Forgiveness

God so loves the world that God sent God's only Son that the world, the universe, might be saved through him.
That's big love. Love we can trust.
Friends, believe that that love is big enough for you.
In Christ we are forgiven. Alleluia! Amen.

Sharing the Peace of Christ

When we are on the way with Jesus Messiah
we are showered with grace upon grace, and blessed with a peace that passes understanding.
Our peace and our joy increases when we share it with one another.
Still, friends, our walk with Jesus is unfolding in a pandemic, so still we ask you to stay where you are and share peace from a distance with those not in your personal bubbles, as you define your bubbles. Wave, bow, use American Sign Language, smile with your eyes. Find a way to share peace with those in the room and those joining us via zoom.
May the peace of Christ be with you.
And also with you.
